Supervisor of Public Records,

In response to my public records request, the city of Northampton asserts that it cannot provide responsive records because they are "proprietary." The city does not cite any exemptions to the public records law that allow it to withhold proprietary information. Please order the city to provide a new response that complies with the law.

Thank you,
Andrew Quemere

Pam,
We have no dispatch specific protocols, policies or training for dealing with calls related to the drugs fentanyl and carfentanil .

We are certified in and use Priority Dispatch Emergency Medical Dispatch systems for all medical calls. We are not allowed to share the information as it is proprietary. Here is the company's website if they wish to contact them: <https://prioritydispatch.net/>

Thank you,
Kelly

Good Morning;

Below is a FOIA request that I received this morning. Here is additional information for responding to this inquiry:

Please respond to this within ten business days. If there will be a fee involved, please notify the requester with a fee estimate.

If you feel that the requester does not have the right to the specific records requested, please indicate in detail the specific basis for withholding the requested materials. The denial must include a citation to one of the statutory provisions. A denial must also advise the requester of the right to seek redress through the administrative process provided by the Supervisor of Records (Supervisor) as well as the judicial remedy available in superior court.

The mandatory disclosure provision of the Public Records Law only applies to information that is in the custody of the governmental entity at the time the request is received. There is no obligation to create a record for a requester or to honor prospective requests.

It is up to each department to respond directly to this inquiry; however, please let me know when the request has been met by your department for tracking purposes.

* All current policies, memos/bulletins, and other informational materials (e.g., PowerPoint presentations, instructional videos, etc.) related to the drugs fentanyl and carfentanil for police and other emergency personnel.

I request that these records be provided in electronic format. In the event that fees are assessed, I request that they be waived as suggested but not stipulated by the recommendations of the Massachusetts Supervisor of Public Records as I believe this request is in the public interest.

Sincerely,
Andrew Quemere
